Notice of Final Rulemaking
Patent and Trademark Automated Search System Fees

The Patent and Trademark Office is amending the rules of practice in patent and trademark cases to establish fees for access to the automated patent and trademark search systems. Public Law 100-703, enacted on November 19, 1988, allows the Commissioner to establish reasonable fees for on-line access to these systems. The effective date of the new fees is February 12, 1990.

The new fees are for the on-line use of APS-Text which is the USPAT data base (full-text of U.S. patents issued after 1974), U.S. classification data from 1790 to the present, and English abstracts of Japanese and Chinese patents (to the extent they are available), and T-Search which is the automated trademark search system. These systems are located in the Patent Search Room and Trademark Search Library, respectively, located in Crystal City, Virginia.

Except for a series of pilot experiments which may occur over the next one or two years, the Office does not plan to provide routine remote on-line access to these data bases at any other facilities at the present time. A separate rulemaking process will be followed when the Office determines to provide such remote on-line access.

The paper and/or microfilm collections of U.S. patents, foreign patent documents and U.S. trademark registrations continue to be available to the public free of charge. The Office reaffirms its commitment to hold a public hearing prior to making any decision concerning the elimination of the paper files.

The Office is setting fees at $40.00 for each hour of APS-Text or T-Search terminal session time, including print time. The fee for each printed page generated from the systems is set at $.10 per page. In the case of the APS-Text, a fee of $25.00 is set for each hour of Office staff assistance to conduct a search. Information on training, reservation of terminal time, payment of fees, and waiver of fee payments under certain circumstances is included in the final rule package.

In response to the notice of proposed rulemaking published in the Federal Register on May 3, 1989 (54 FR 18907), and at a public hearing held on June 30, 1989, the Office received many comments regarding problems encountered by the public in the use of T-Search. The Office believes that T-Search has proven effective for searches performed by Trademark examining attorneys in connection with their examination of applications for the registration of marks. Although the Office is establishing a fee for accessing the T-Search system, the Commissioner is immediately suspending collection of that fee to provide additional time for the public to familiarize themselves with T-Search. The Office will provide the public with sixty days notice before starting to collect the fee.

A copy of the final rule was published in the Federal Register on December 11, 1989 (54 FR 50942).

Reference Collection of U.S. Patents Available for Public Use in Patent Depository Libraries

The following libraries, designated as Patent Depository Libraries (PDLs), receive current issues of U.S. Patents and maintain collections of earlier-issued patents. The scope of these collections varies from library to libary, ranging from patents of only recent years to all or most of the patents issued since 1790.

These patent collections, which are organized in patent number sequence, are available for use by the public free of charge. Each of the PDLs, in addition, offers supplemental reference publications of the U.S. Patent Classification System, including the Manual of Classification, Index to the U.S. Patent Classification, Classification Definitions, and provides technical staff assistance in their use to aid the public, in gaining effctive access to information contained in patents. CASSIS (Classification And Search Support Information System); which provides direct, on-line access to Patent and Trademark Office data, is available at all PDLs. Facilities for making paper copies of patents from either microfilm or paper collections are generally provided for a fee.

Since there are variations in the scope of patent collections among the PDLs and in their hours of service to the public, anyone contemplating use of the patents at a particular library is urged to contact that library, in advance, about its collection and hours in order to avert possible inconvenience.

SECTION 1.—INTERNATIONAL CLASSIFICATION

The short titles associated below with the international class numbers are terms designed merely for quick identification and are not an official part of the international classification. The full names of international classes are given in section 6.1 of the trademark rules of practice.

The designation "U.S. Cl." appearing in this section refers to the U.S. class in effect prior to Sep. 1, 1973 rather than the international class which applies to applications filed on or after that date. SECTION 2.—INTERNATIONAL CLASSIFICATION

The short titles associated below with the international class numbers are terms designed merely for quick identification and are not an official part of the international classification. The full names of international classes are given in section 6.1 of the trademark rules of practice.

The designation "U.S. Cl." appearing in this section refers to the U.S. class in effect prior to Sep. 1, 1973 rather than the international class which applies to applications filed on or after that date. For adoption of international classification see notice in the OFFICIAL GAZETTE of Jun. 26, 1973 (911 O.G. TM 210).
